Fixed-rate loan

The most common way to buy or refinance a home. It's a solid choice when rates are low to keep your payments predictable—your principal and interest won't change from month to month. And predictable can be a good thing.

¹ Mortgage Rates and APR examples are representative of products available through Truist Bank. Refinance product rates assume no cash out. In addition to discount points provided, the APR also includes an average of costs a borrower would pay for tax service, flood hazard determination, and closing-related services, as permitted by regulation and law. Other charges may include, as applicable to the loan program and permitted by regulations, those for appraisals, credit reports, title insurance, and other miscellaneous costs. We will be happy to provide specific information on your transaction upon request. The following Annual Percentage Rate ("APR") examples are for a typical transaction and are only examples. Please call (877) 907-1043, email us, or find a loan officer serving your community to learn more about a specific APR for your transaction. Monthly payments are shown as principal and interest only and do not include PMI, taxes, insurance, or other applicable escrows. Actual payment obligation will be greater.
